

What is best for the future of Watlington?

Is it best to spread the 200 new homes on sites around Watlington, with no new route for traffic, but introduce effective ways to manage traffic through the town?

Or.....

Is it best to build new homes on the string of available sites around the west of the town, which would mean many more new homes but would provide a new route for some through traffic?